Fostering Open Educational Practices

Patrick McAndrew, Associate Director (Learning & Teaching)
Institute of Educational Technology
The Open University, UK
Experience

Education

Learning to teach
A scientist returns to the classroom

Education has 132 pages - including 74 study units from our LearningSpace.

Too much? Just show me pages by...
OLnet aims to search out the evidence for use and reuse of open educational resources.

http://www.flickr.com/photos/bartelomeus/4184705426/

http://olnet.org
OpenLearn

- Enhance OU reputation
- Extending reach
- Widening participation
- Experiment with courses
- Accelerate technologies
- Catalyst for collaboration
- Research base
- Recruitment of students

http://oro.open.ac.uk/17513
Understanding openness
Learning from others

- Use of OER
- Training
- Tools and Technology
- Sustainability
- Quality
- Production of OER
- Ongoing support
- OER Overview Research
- Not sure
- Networks and Sharing
- Encouraging adoption of OER
- Delivery infrastructure
- Copyright/licensing

olnet.org
Open Policy

“OER is a catalyst for Deeper Learning”

Barbara Chow, Hewlett Foundation

Jim Fruchterman http://www.flickr.com/photos/jrandomf/450604475
Design for openness
Ways to use OER

Name: Pad McAndrew
Date created: Tuesday 14 October 2008

Statement of Activity

This is a record of your activity for the study unit:

Studying the arts and humanities (A103_1)

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Unit outline</th>
<th>Activity</th>
<th>Last visited</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Unit forum</td>
<td>Not viewed</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Give a review</td>
<td>No review given</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Introduction</td>
<td>Not viewed</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Introducing the arts and humanities</td>
<td>No review given</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reasons for choosing the arts</td>
<td>No review given</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hopes and expectations</td>
<td>No review given</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Concerns about study</td>
<td>No review given</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Studying the arts, ethics, and politics</td>
<td>No review given</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Acknowledgements</td>
<td>No review given</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
OER Content as an attractor

Attracts:
- Quality
- Unique
- Fresh
- Fast
- Small
- Relevant
OER in different contexts
Fellowships for researchers and practitioners who wish to contribute to the understanding of the OER design and use worldwide
Fellowships
Embrace openness: operation, teaching & research

OER as the catalyst for change

Work across boundaries

Open research as a new approach

Patrick McAndrew
The Open University
Walton Hall
Milton Keynes
MK7 6AA

olnet.org

p.mcandrew@open.ac.uk / olnet@open.ac.uk